Eye-To-Eye Parenting Workshop 11 Feb 2012

This workshop is specifically designed for the busy parents who wish to be more proactively involved in nurturing their children without having to be experts in the school subjects or giving up their full-time jobs. However, first they must be willing to re-learn how to communicate with their children, and to communicate means understanding your child's inner motivation and psychology and talking the language that enables both parents and child to see eye to eye on issues important to both parties. Communication also means finding agreement on issues important to both parent and child.

Heart-to-Heart Parenting Workshop 03 Mar 2012

While parents want their children to do well in and outside school, many feel that they are unable to help their children beyond sending them to an endless parade of tuition or enrichment classes. This follow-up workshop focuses on developing a child who is responsible and committed to his or her own personal growth with clear and definite long-term vision.
